Kuwi's Fluey Huwi

Written and Illustrated by Kat Quin

From the #1 bestselling and award-winning author and illustrator of the Kuwi the Kiwi series, Kat Quin. Following on from the hugely popular Kuwi's First Egg, Kuwi's Huhu Hunt, Kuwi's Very Shiny Bum and Kuwi's Rowdy Crowd books.

To date, over $60,000 donated from the sale of Kuwi books!

SUPPORTING:

Huwi, Kuwi's chick, has a slight sniffle. Kuwi embarks on a chaotic adventure to track down a cure for her cheeky little sick chick.

Kuwi tests... a kawakawa quilt made by bustling boulder butterflies, but Huwi's sniffles stubbornly stay. Glittering goo made from glow worm poo, but Huwi's chill still stays. A mud hot pool plunge with a pampering penguin, but Huwi's sniffles peskily persist!

The delightfully unique and unmistakably Kiwi artwork will bring laughter to both grown-ups and kids, featuring a hilariously relatable plot that resonates with parents everywhere. Young readers will find joy in the unexpected twists, eagerly anticipating the next crazy cure Kuwi will come up with next, all while learning about our native flora and fauna.

SWIRLY WORLD: LOST AT SEA.

BY ANDREW FAGAN

At 10:15am on January 19th 2022, renowned solo sailor, Andrew Fagan, set sail from Auckland, New Zealand, in his tiny 5.1m sloop-rigged plywood yacht Swirly World in Perpetuity in an attempt to set the world record for "The smallest boat to sail solo around the world via the Great Capes".

The three capes being South America's Cape Horn, Africa's Cape of Good Hope and Australia's Cape Leuwin.

The voyage itself was estimated to take fourteen months non-stop. Fourteen months of food, water... and resolve.

Andrew first needed to cross the vast South Pacific Ocean towards Cape Horn, the stuff of myth and legend and the point at which the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans meet – one of the most feared sea routes in the world.

Was his boat up to it? Was he up to it? Written with his trademark humour and a solemn sense of sailing awareness, Swirly World: Lost At Sea is underpinned by Andrew's clinical understanding of both the brutality and beauty of the sea.

This book is part sailing adventure, part memoir and is the third book in a trilogy – it follows Swirly World, the Solo Voyages (2001) and Swirly World Sails South (2012).

Setting records was nothing new for Andrew Fagan. He had sailed more than 15,000 solo miles offshore in Swirly World, having owned the boat since 1985.

In 1994 he competed in the Solo Trans-Tasman race from New Plymouth to Mooloolaba, Australia, and Swirly World became the smallest sailing boat to have ever raced offshore. On his successful return he set another record as Swirly World took the honour of being the smallest sailing boat to have ever crossed the Tasman Sea, there and back.

Fagan also holds the record for the smallest yacht to have circumnavigated New Zealand, with a visit to the sub-Antarctic Auckland Islands.

Now, it was time for the biggest challenge of all, for both him and Swirly World: A solo voyage around the world.

Andrew Fagan's previously published books in the trilogy:

Swirly World, The Solo Voyages (2001)

"For Andrew Fagan there is a particular joy in solo sailing. Beyond the trials of sail changes in high seas and howling gales, seasickness, soggy food and saltwater madness, there is a unique satisfaction, even ecstasy, in being alone on the ocean, testing one's mental and physical mettle. With its blend of drama and reflection, this humorous and perceptive book will delight anyone who simply enjoys a good sailing story."

Swirly World Sails South (2012)

"Fagan tells of having to avoid icebergs, sailing through a force ten storm in the Southern Ocean and visiting sites of shipwrecks at Port Ross in the Auckland Island group: 'With the genuine concern of a very fatigued person, I was sailing for my life and I knew it!'

Swirly World Sails South offers a unique and refreshing perspective on the world of solo sailing."

There is a modern theory that nobody is irreplaceable and that once one generation has done its best, the next one will do better. Well, those theorists obviously never encountered Roland Clark, because since he stopped his writings on agriculture in 2002 there has never been a columnist who could come within a bull's roar of his contributions.

FOREWORD BY HARRY BROAD

BIOGRAPHY / MEMOIR

This is the story of Roland Clark (aka 'Nor'wester'), a provocative and entertaining farmer and agricultural commentator, and his wife Betty, who farmed at Staveley in the Foothills area of Mid Canterbury from the 1950s to the 1980s.

For more than twenty years Roland's New Zealand Farmer articles, notable for their wisdom, charm and provocative humour, were a monthly highlight for farming families throughout the country. Readers of the Christchurch Star were equally enthusiastic, avidly reading his weekly columns – about one thousand of them, and some two thousand articles in all. Where the Nor'wester Blows draws extensively on Roland's lively writing.

In addition to chronicling family, farming, local and social history, the book colourfully charts Roland's rise from farming novice (he had to ask a neighbour to show him how to plough a paddock!) to being one of New Zealand's leading agricultural commentators and a founder of the New Zealand Tree Crops Association.

The narrative takes us from their early days in Ireland and the Queensland outback, through years of war (Roland was in the Special Operations Executive in the Mediterranean) and managing a Belfast linen mill to when they moved to New Zealand in 1958. The book provides a rich account of their early days in rural New Zealand as well as the development of their farm, 'Glenshane'.

Jeffrey Paparoa Holman

What if the dead – our dead – never feel to us that they have gone? If family stories, fragments of their lives, continue to nag and haunt us? Lily Hasenburg was just such a figure in Holman's growing years. She was whispered into his ear by grandmother Eunice – in memorable stories of her older sister, who married and moved to Germany at the turn of the 20th century, and was later caught up in the Nazi web spun by Adolf Hitler. Unable to shake loose this story, Holman pursued her to Berlin, Hamburg and Dresden. Here, we have an account of his pilgrimage; the kind of family history we might bury, and forget – to our loss.

'Holman travels, learns German, encounters the lost who were always right there ... Lily, Oh Lily is family memoir at full stretch, made with love, yearning and just a hint of reproach. A wise, timely, beautiful read.'—Diana Wichtel

'Lily, Oh Lily is a thriller, a search for a particular person caught in the events of Nazi Germany – not a whodunnit, but a where-is-she?' —Patrick Evans

Jeffrey Paparoa Holman is an acclaimed poet, historian and memoirist. His poetry has been shortlisted for the New Zealand Book Awards; his family memoir The Lost Pilot (Penguin, 2013) was warmly received in Aotearoa and overseas. Best of Both Worlds: The story of Elsdon Best and Tutakangahau (Penguin, 2010) was short-listed for the Ernest Scott Prize (History) in Australia. Since retirement from his role as senior adjunct fellow at the University of Canterbury, he has taught creative writing in both primary and high school programmes. He has also worked with other poets and tane (prisoners) at Paparua, Christchurch Men's Prison library. Led by his Foxy-Jack Russell, Hari, he daily explores the secrets of inner city Otautahi/Christchurch.

Free range antics and family adversit -a kiwi boyhood in the 50s and 60s

NON-FICTION / MEMOIR

For many Kiwi baby boomers, growing up in New Zealand in the 1950s and 60s was a special time – heaps of playmates, freedom to run wild, and opportunity to exercise imagination. Pete Majendie's stories of his childhood in New Brighton capture those experiences.

At times laugh-out-loud funny, at other times heartbreaking and poignant, the stories range from the adventures and misadventures of free-range fun with mates to the effects of hereditary deafness and the death of Pete's older brother at age eight on family, neighbours and friends.

Pete coped with his brother's death, his mother's debilitating grief and his father's increasing deafness by developing a strong sense of humour, pivotal friendships and a growing interest in and talent for art.

Several themes run through the book — deafness, silence in its many forms, responses to grief, battles with mental and physical health, the importance of inter-generational relationships and friendships, the power of play and imagination, and the joys of reading, poetry and art. And always there is the sense of the absurd and the laughter that sustained a young boy who struggled on occasion to be seen and heard.

Although the stories are grounded in Pete's experiences, aspects of them sometimes veer into autobiographical fiction, so enhancing the essence of a type and time of childhood that will resonate with boomers and non-boomers alike.

Eileen Mayo's Rare and Endangered Birds of Aotearoa New Zealand

30 PULL-OUT POSTERS

A beautifully presented book of 30 large pull-out posters featuring delightful paintings of native birds by artist Eileen Mayo, first reproduced in the late 1970s as series of picture cards in packets of Gregg's Jelly Crystals.

From the curious mātuhituhi bush wren, to the elegant kōtuku white heron, or the owl-like kākāpō, it's not hard to see why these exquisite paintings captured the hearts of young New Zealanders.

This beautifully designed book includes:

- 30 large pull-out colour posters of exquisite paintings of rare and endangered New Zealand birds.
- Short texts on each bird by renowned conservationist and science educator John Darby (ONZM).
- An engaging introduction to the art of Eileen Mayo, one of the country's most remarkable artists.
- A special binding method that allows each poster to be lifted from the book.
- Shrink-wrapping.

About the artist:

Having trained at art schools in London, Eileen Mayo came to Aotearoa New Zealand in the early 1960s. An artist of great skill and observation, with a deep love of nature, she produced paintings, wood engravings, linocuts, lithographs, book illustrations, stamp designs and more. Mayo taught at the Ilam School of Fine Arts at the University of Canterbury, and exhibited widely throughout the country. Her work is held in major collections in New Zealand and around the world.

DUMMIES & DOPPELGÄNGERS

A lively look at bodies in contemporary art

Don't we all feel like strangers to ourselves sometimes? The entity that meets my eyes in the mirror isn't the same me that people encounter out in the world, and it's different again from that deeper self that dwells somewhere between soul and psyche. Such slippery, porous territory offers artists a rich hunting ground.

Artists include... Louisa Afoa, James Barth, Sam Jinks, Yuki Kihara, Sarah Lucas, Ron Mueck, Tony Oursler, Michael Parekōwhai, Patricia Piccinini, Francis Upritchard, Ronnie van Hout, Ah Xian ... and more!

Bodies play fascinating roles in contemporary art. This bold new book takes the reader on an engaging ride through a selection of sculpture, painting, photography and moving image art by renowned artists from Aotearoa New Zealand and around the world, exploring:

- how bodies act as proxies for the artist's past and imagined selves
- how super-real or just plain surreal identities can say things the artist can't
- and how, in the age of cosmetic and genetic modification, altered bodies can represent dreamlike ideals and nightmarish projections.

CHRISTCHURCH ART GALLERY TE PUNA O WAIWHETU

Don't we all feel like strangers to ourselves sometimes, stepping into subtly adjusted personas throughout our lives, or even across a day? The entity that meets my eyes in the mirror isn't quite the same 'me' that people encounter out in the world; and it's different again from that deeper, more essential self that dwells somewhere between soul and psyche. You only need to listen to your voice on an answerphone or catch yourself on video to feel the disconcerling distance between our interior and exterior identities. As bables, we had to learn where our bodies ended and other bodies began, while parents feel the tug of that separation in reverse. Age and illness shunt us into shapes we don't recognise, and so does seeing ourselves reflected in the eyes and attitudes of others. Bodies may be custom-built containers, but they don't necessarily reflect what's inside us, or even hold us completely – our imaginations and aspirations slip beyond their limits. "Skin bags", writer Olivia Laing calls them: "the leaky vessel, permeable and expulsive, prone to rents and fractures". Slippery, porous territory like this offers artists a rich hunting ground. Dumies & Doppelgängers demonstrates how some recruit proxy identities – both their own and others'—as stand-ins that shed light on what it is to be human.

as stand-ins that shed light on what it is to be human. The appealing freedom of an alternate self was embodied by Marcel Duchamp's female after ego Rrose Sélavy, who emerged in 1921 and was immortalised through a series of images by American photographer Man Ray. Duchamp experimented with several pseudonyms, but saw in Rrose the opportunity to inhabit and explore an identity very different to his own. He created erotically charged sculptures under her name, and credited her with several texts and the 1926 film Anémic Cinéma. Said to be a play on one of two French phrases when spoken aloud-fros, c'est la vie (Eros, that's life) or 'Arroser la vie (a toast to life) – Rrose Sélavy let Duchamp undermine the Romantic view of creativity as a self-contined and unalloyed activity. Through her cryptic, punning phrases, he also subverted and criftqued established ideas about gender and sexuality. "I have a lot of respect for humour", he once explained, "It's a kind of safety-net enabling us to pass through all mirrors."

The idea that we, as humans, are uniquely and fundamentally different from other animals is a cornerstone of how humans have traditionally seen themselves. It is this specialness that allows us to exploit the environment and other beings around us so completely. The idea that humans are essentially different from the environment and other animals is part of the reason why we are willing to cut down vast tracts of rainforest to plant cheap cash crops like palm oil. While some people benefit from this, most other animals do not. Orangutans are amongst those animals most threatened by this deforestation. However, this idea of fundamental difference is not actually so real. Both penetic analysis and observation is now showing how small the difference is. We see common DNA everywhere, and common behaviours in many other animals, especially primates. Like us, orangutan mothers keep their children close and educate them for many years. They are entire powerphising orangutans. It is about acknowledging our common animalses.

This image is her tribute to the origins of the teddy bear. Next, Amanda wore Big Ted in a parade in Gabrovo, the international capital of humour and satire and also the birthplace of the artist Christo. His father worked in a textile mill, Amanda told me. "It's very evident in Christo's work that he was from a textile background." She was in a group exhibition titled Sensibity Taining as part of the 25th Gabrovo Biennial of Humor and Satire in Art. The exhibition included Amanda's sketches in pencil and wateroclours of herself nude and dressed in the Blue Ted costume. They are unflattering, like migshots, but not untrue. Look closely and you will see that Blue Ted has four black plastic teddy-bear noses attached to his chest like nipples, in the parade in Gabrovo, Amanda wore blue Ted, strolling along blindty, like a mascot, barefoot, her arms crossed over the furry tummy. When she arrived in New Zealand for her Olivia Spencer Bower.

when she arrived in New Zealand for her Olivia Spencer Bower residency, she made a giant Pink Ted. She even attached a bow and gave it a white fur belly just like my original bear. "Come and visit. I want to see you," I said. At the airport, Amanda was carrying a giant striped bag that had Blue Ted and Pink Ted buried inside it. We put it in the boot. The teddy bears should have stayed in childhood, but when we got back to my place we unzipped the bag and let them out. My daughter promptly lay down on Pink Ted like it was a beanbag. Then she put it on, as though it was a second skin.

Practical Tools and Insights on How to Build High Performing Teams

ISBN 9780473715144 RRP $39.99 C. Hearns Paperback 226 Pages 234 x 156 mm August 2024

A must-have book for anyone leading or seeking to lead others.

Nathan Strife was on top of the world. Three months ago, he'd landed his dream job, a leadership position he'd coveted for years. Now, he's hit rock bottom. The pressure and disillusionment that have surfaced with his leadership style have become unbearable. A sudden turn of events necessitates a trip back to his native Ireland, where fate throws him a curveball.

Thrust into a high-stakes situation, Nathan is forced to confront his leadership failures head-on. Witnessing a different kind of leader in action — one forged in the crucible of mountain rescue—Nathan starts to question everything he thought he knew about leadership. Will the unforgiving mountain terrain become the stage for Nathan's personal transformation? Can he rediscover the true meaning of leadership and find the courage to climb out of his professional despair?

An invaluable book for anyone who has ever suffered the heartbreak of a breakup, with tools to come through stronger and better than before.

From Breakup to Breakthrough: Believe in You! speaks directly to the heart of every woman who stands at the crossroads of a heart-wrenching breakup, in uncomfortable grief and looking for a way out of the darkness. Breaking up hurts. When you come face to face with your inner pain, it's tempting to retreat. But so much goodness is waiting for you on the other side of your heartbreak.

With her wisdom and warmth, Brenda James guides readers through the murky waters of post- breakup turmoil. She offers a clear plan to reclaim your inner strength and rediscover your true self. Integrating reflections from her own breakup to breakthrough with the narratives of eight women who have also walked this path, Brenda lays out a three-part roadmap: Know Yourself, Trust Yourself, Be Yourself. Each step reveals strategies for a process that turns your trudge towards the future into a confident leap—a place where you will emerge transformed.

Author Note

'When I was faced with a sudden and unexpected relationship separation, the pain was almost more than I could bear. I started searching for books to help. Every book I read seemed to go on and on about the pain, moving into the solution at a snail's pace and continually boomeranging back to the pain. While there were things I could relate to, and it helped to have another author put what I was feeling into words, I was seeking rapid transformation. I couldn't find it anywhere.

So, I embarked on a journey that saw me use the tools I share with my coaching clients. Shining a spotlight on self-awareness and trusting my intuition. Being able to sit still and cry. Being courageous enough to stop all non-essential contact with my ex. Embracing holistic healing by using meditation, healthy eating and movement, writing to release thoughts, and most of all – my daily gratitude practice. It's the last part that truly saved my soul. Choosing the flavour of my thoughts. Especially when I started writing about the gains. Over time, I saw that I had gained inner peace. With hindsight, I saw that I'd had rose-coloured glasses on about the relationship. The healing has held. I am shining. I know I can inspire others to do the same.'

An arresting, exhilarating, unstable bricolage; deft zigzagging in true hybridity – David Eggleton and Harry Ricketts

This collection delves into relationships and their beginnings, middles and ends, how one person relates to another or to many others in circles of intimacy and exclusion. An obsession with an internet stranger or with the one who got away. Asserting ownership over a lover or watching, helpless, as they recede on a mysterious tide. Relationships that stagnate or explode, that fail to launch or simmer with jealousy, desire or unrequited longing. Workplace and family skeletons. Explorations of artificial procreation and motherhood. In Wilson's hands prose, poetry and translation hybridise at unexpected intersections and dance in surreal meta-landscapes.

Born and raised in Kirikiriroa, Sharni Wilson is an award-winning writer of fiction and a Japanese-to-English literary translator. She is the translator of Swan Knight by Fumio Takano (Luna Press, 2024). Her work has appeared in Landfall, World Literature Today and the Malahat Review, among others. One to Many and other experiments is her first book.

Mum hugged Anwen and Alex. Fighting back tears, she said, "We just loved doing what we did. It's been an amazing chocolate cake summer."

"Sure has," Alex agreed.

Who'd have thought a simple chocolate cake could cause such a transformation in a neighbourhood of people who scarcely knew each other? And who'd have thought that a simple chocolate cake could enable a friendship between Alex, a thirteen-year-old immigrant, and his tormentor, West Line College's resident bully, Fish. Who is the mysterious and light-fingered Miss Hartley who lives in the street but never comes to cake-time? Alex's sister Anwen and her friend Theo secretly set out to find out.

"An Amazing Chocolate Cake Summer" is an entertaining story with real heart that tells of the power of generosity with no thought of reward.

You never forget your school days... Is this because we were young, our minds marvellously open to the new and undiscovered? Or is it the repeating patterns of the school day and year? Whatever the reasons, there'll always be moments we remember: the science experiment that went wrong, a teacher saying we're a star or the sticky-palmed hours in the hall doing exams. And there's the universal experience of daydreaming out of the classroom window:

"The teacher repeats the question.

Outside the window, on an overhanging branch, a robin is ruffling its feathers..."

from 'The Hand' by Mary Ruefle

These lively and enriching poems capture the light and shade of our days at school, and celebrate the teachers who help shepherd us through childhood and out into the world.

Poems by Kathryn Bevis, Carole Bromley, Jeanette Burton, Charles Causley, Denise Duhamel, Jonathan Edwards, Carla Sofia Ferreira, Oliver Goldsmith, Lorna Goodison, Andrew Jamison, Stephen Knight, Keith Leonard, Hannah Lowe, Thomas Lux, Brad Aaron Modlin, Kim Moore, Christopher Reid, Mary Ruefle, Catherine Smith and Jennifer Wong.

We begin on Exmoor and end with a frosted window in this glorious addition to our ever-popular series of Almanacs. On the way, we encounter wild roses and pipistrelle bats, the green-god Lud and "violet lightnings" during a summer storm.

The twelve poems take us through the year, noticing the particular things that make each month unique and precious. Spring is heralded in a delicious poem that relishes the rhymes and sound-patterns of the year's most vibrant season:

"Slithery, withery Winter's away! Here comes dawny, yawny Spring sunrays, rooty, shooty, tooty daffodils bright, buttery, fluttery, butterflies light..."

from 'Here Comes Spring' by Linda Middleton

What could be better than starting each month with a poem? We hope this beguiling selection will help you to do just that.

The Well-Designed Accessory Dwelling Unit

Fitting Great Architecture into Small Spaces

by: Lydia Lee - Barbara Bestor

DESCRIPTION

An inspirational look book for conceiving, planning, and building an accessory dwelling unit (ADU), a small house that is on the same property as the main house—a quickly growing trend that is transforming our vision of what a dream home should be. ADUs offer homeowners opportunities to host family and friends, add studio or office space, or generate passive income through a long-term rental on their existing property. Combine these practical benefits with broad and preferential rezoning in many municipalities throughout the US, and ADUs are one of the biggest developments in housing.

Written by award-winning architecture and design writer Lydia Lee, this thoughtful exploration of ADUs answers many of the questions that arise when thinking about investing in an ADU. From design strategies and challenges to understanding zoning regulations to financing and material selection, this title covers the need-to-know basics on ADUs in addition to presenting expert advice from architects, builders, and homeowners.

Accompanying this information are extensive looks at 15 carefully designed ADUs from the US and Canada, complete with showstopping photos, floor plans, and informative text boxes. Readers will learn unique perspectives from each project including green building solutions, practical architectural solutions to optimize limited space, and the pitfalls homeowners encountered and resolved.

Content includes:

- insights shared by architects and ADU owners from 15 projects in the US and Canada;
- floor plans and high-end interior and exterior project photography;
- discussion of prefabricated materials, green building, and storage solutions; and
- a primer on zoning, financing, building, and more.

With so many possibilities and opportunities for ADUs, this book is ideal for homeowners, architects, interior designers, builders, and developers.

The first book from the AD100 interior designer renowned for joyful, vibrant, intensely personal homes imbued with art, pattern, and craftsmanship.

Description

A decidedly global outlook best described as 'a punk take on preppy' brings passion and a playful spirit to AD100 designer Rodman Primack's projects. His work with his partner Rudy Weissenberg has garnered attention over two decades for breaking hierarchies by layering textures, patterns, art, and bold colors to create vibrant, joyful spaces.

The first book from the globetrotting designer, Love How You Live takes readers to thirteen international projects-including Primack and Weissenberg's own homes-each reflecting the culture and conditions of their locations and the passions of their inhabitants while embodying Primack's radical philosophy. The book reveals that spontaneity, juxtaposition, collection, and emotion in any setting lead to satisfying spaces, and that objects we value need not be expensive, making high design relatable.

Callout features highlighting fourteen artists and artisans living across the United States and around the world encourage readers to look to their own local sources and craftspeople-from farmers markets to art fairs-for inspiration and accent pieces to give rooms depth, joy, and personality. A belief that beauty can always be found in site-specific authenticity enriches all the projects presented in this book, spanning locations from Mexico City, Guatemala, and London to New York, California, Kentucky, Hawaii, Cape Cod, and Miami.

Primack and Weissenberg's international interiors practice is driven by cultural amplification and cross-disciplinary conversations, and is focused on collaborative relationships with architects, artists, and craftspeople. The firm is included in Architectural Digest's AD100 list of the world's top design talent, the Wallpaper US 300, and has had projects featured in the New York Times Magazine, World of Interiors, Vogue Mexico, Casa Vogue Brasil, Elle Decor Japan, Architectural Digest, and Architectural Digest Spain, among other publications.

CHAGALL

EDITED BY GISELA KIRPICSENKO AND SUSANNE MEYER-BÜSER

Steeped in tradition yet alive with imagination, Chagall's enormous body of work reflects a profound connection to cultural roots and to the boundless possibilities of creative expression. This monograph brings fresh eyes to the most relevant aspects of Chagall's oeuvre. It traces how, over eight decades, Chagall responded to his contemporaries' experimentations with cubism, fauvism, and surrealism by creating his own visual language. It offers a lively examination of overarching themes—love and romance; Jewish tradition and history; spirituality and the daily life, based on memory and nostalgia—and the ways they are reflected through repetition and variation over the years. And it reveals how Chagall's flexible use of symbols contributes to build a fantastic cosmos grounded on the "logic of the illogical". Readers will come to understand how Chagall was essentially a storyteller with an enormous gift for colour and line, and a narrative artist who understood the power of symbolism in his own terms.

One of the most innovative and influential artists of the early twentieth century, the master of color, subjective realism, and emotional depth is rediscovered by an internationally renowned scholar in a ravishing, monumental volume.

BONNARD

ISABELLE CAHN

At the end of the nineteenth century, as a member of the avantgarde Nabis group, Pierre Bonnard actively participated in the construction of aesthetic modernity. His painting proposed new, radical formulas for transforming space and narrative as he advocated for art that embraced all techniques and challenged the traditional hierarchy of genres. Elegantly packaged, and filled with large, full-color, high quality reproductions this volume covers every facet of Bonnard's creative work. It opens with an examination of the artist's association with the Nabis group, exploring the influences of Symbolism and Japanese prints on his early work and looks at the development of his unique visual language, which is characterized by the interplay of vibrant colors, intimate perspectives, and a poetic rendering of everyday scenes. It explores his intimate connections to settings such as Paris, Normandy, and the Côte d'Azur as well as his innovative use of fragmentation, the importance of drawing and sketches, his masterful use of color and composition, and the role of dueling forces—isolation and intimacy, vitality and impermanence, realism and ambiguity. A final chapter discusses Bonnard's most prominent collectors and patrons and tackles the question of his relevance and legacy. As sumptuous as it is informative, this comprehensive, authoritative work reveals how Bonnard helped explore the human experience through the lens of vibrant and emotionally charged canvases.

ISABELLE CAHN is a curator at the Musée d'Orsay in Paris, specializing in the Nabis and Post-Impressionism

MAURICE DE VLAMINCK MODERN ART REBEL

EDITED BY ROLAND MÖNIG, MICHAEL PHILIPP, ANNA STORM, ORTRUD WESTHEIDER, AND DANIEL ZAMANI

After his participation at the Paris Salon d'Automne of 1905, Maurice de Vlaminck (1876-1958) quickly established himself as a leading figure of the French avant-garde. More than any other member of the Fauves, he keenly identified with the attribute of wildness and early on propagated the image of a modern artist rebel who resolutely turned his back on the rules of academic painting. His central source of inspiration was the oeuvre of Vincent van Gogh, whose works Vlaminck studied at the large solo exhibition which took place at the Bernheim-Jeune Gallery in 1901. Van Gogh's training as an autodidact as well as his burgeoning myth as an artist genius and social outsider strengthened this identification, which would remain key throughout Vlaminck's later career. This catalog provides a wideranging overview of the painter's entire oeuvre: from the first compositions he executed at the beginning of the 20th century, through the experiments with Cubism that were inspired by Cézanne and Picasso, to some of his very last landscapes. Throughout, the book recalls Vlaminck's vital contribution to the development of 20th-century painting, notably his role as one of the most important precursors of Expressionism.

ROLAND MÖNIG is director of the Von der Heydt-Museum in Wuppertal, Germany. MICHAEL PHILIPP is chief curator of the Museum Barberini in Potsdam, Germany. ANNA STORM is deputy director of the Von der Heydt-Museum in Wuppertal. ORTRUD WESTHEIDER is director of the Museum Barberini in Potsdam. DANIEL ZAMANI is curator at the Museum Barberini in Potsdam.

IMPRESSIONIST PLACES REVEALED IN PAINTINGS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

MIRIAM LEIMER, WITH A FOREWORD BY ORTRUD WESTHEIDER, PHOTOGRAPHS BY CHRISTOPH IRRGANG

In their light-filled landscapes, Impressionist artists created a new way of seeing nature, but what do the places they painted look like one hundred and fifty years on? Inspired by the Barberini Museum's collection of Impressionist masterpieces, photographer Christoph Irrgang traveled to dozens of European places immortalized in paintings to document the effects of time and modernization on the landscape. Here his photographs are placed side-by-side with gorgeous reproductions of the original paintings—and the results are, in turn, astonishing and illuminating. Readers will discover how artists imbued their settings with a certain aura and how their magic flows into the reality of the present. At Le Havre, where Monet painted the busy port, the efforts of rebuilding after World War II led UNESCO to inscribe it a World Heritage Site. They will travel to the town of Louveciennes, outside Paris, where Renoir painted his gently shaded pathway. And they will inspect the concrete and iron railroad bridge in the town of Argenteuil on the Seine, which Caillebotte depicted as a modern landscape where nature mingled harmoniously with industry. In addition to informative texts about each painting and each location, this book features precise GPS coordinates of each site. This fascinating study in the juxtaposition of art and photography of past and present will have readers desperate to travel in the footsteps of the Impressionists.

BEWARE OF THE WOMAN ARTIST FIFTY OF THE GREATEST WOMEN IN 20TH AND 21ST CENTURY ART

LAURE ADLER AND CAMILLE VIÉVILLE

From mystic and groundbreaking color theorist Hilma af Klimt to the multi-disciplinary storyteller Megan Rooney, this thoughtfully curated and stunningly illustrated collection celebrates the rich tapestry of creativity and perseverance of women artists of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Organized chronologically by year of birth, this book features multi-page spreads that include an introductory text accompanied by dazzling full-color reproductions of each artist's work. Readers will discover the enormous variety of contributions from women of color such as Elizabeth Catlett, Saloua Raouda Choucair, Bertina Lopes, and Faith Ringgold; women from non-western cultures, including Kubra Khademi, Irene Chou, Zarina, Wook-Kyung Choi, and Nairy Baghramian; work that explores the female body by Marlene Dumas, Rebecca Horn, Valie Export, and Ana Mendieta; and the radical, groundbreaking work of Judy Chicago, Lygia Clark, and the Guerilla Girls. Throughout, readers will gain an understanding of the enormous struggles women artists have faced; of the incredible accomplishments they have achieved in the face of sexism, ageism, and racism; and how, despite these advancements, they continue to fight for recognition in a culture and climate dominated by men.

One of the most influential artists and thinkers of his time comes to life in this stunning graphic biography inspired by Morris' designs and filled with the colors and patterns that defined the Arts and Crafts Movement.

WILLIAM MORRIS THE STORY OF HIS LIFE

TEXT AND ILLUSTRATIONS BY GIANCARLO ASCARI AND PIA VALENTINIS

Readers of all ages will learn much from this unique biography that highlights the most important aspects of the artist's life and career. It traces his childhood fascination with medieval history, nature, and his friendships with the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood—Dante Gabriel Rosetti, Edward Burne-Jones-and with other leading figures of the day such as Philip Webb and John Ruskin. It takes readers inside Morris' famous homes—Red House, which became a hub for artistic and intellectual activities, and served as a testing ground for his ideas about the integration of art and daily life; and Kelmscott Manor, a tranquil retreat whose natural surroundings and historic setting resonated with his romantic ideals. The visual narrative captures key moments of his foray into political activism, and details his important work in printing and book design. The volume closes with a virtual gallery, in which readers can explore the details of his tapestries, carpets, and other masterpieces as well as a section on how the Arts and Crafts Movement influenced architecture, painting, sculpture, graphics, illustration, publishing, photography, and design for decades to come. The perfect introduction to a true Renaissance man, this fascinating presentation provides readers with an indelible impression of a polymath and free-thinker who was ahead of his time, and of his lasting legacy in the fields of art, preservation, and social justice.

TURNERMASTERS OF ART

Filled with brilliant reproductions and engaging texts reflecting the latest scholarship, this portable and attractively priced volume is the perfect introduction to one of the most important pioneers of modernism in Britain and beyond.

Joseph Mallord William Turner is considered a trailblazer of modernism in Europe. More than almost any other artist in the first half of the nineteenth century, he succeeded in making atmosphere and color the defining elements of his paintings. His world-famous landscapes, seascapes and vedute bear witness to his virtuoso use of light; the figurative seems to dissolve in favor of mood. This book cements Turner's reputation as a role model for the Impressionists and a forerunner of abstraction.

An introductory essay sheds light on Turner's life and work within a historical context, while selected paintings and watercolors are examined in detail.

Welcome to the Wes Anderson museum a place packed with illustrations, ephemera, trivia, and insightful commentary, and as whimsical and visually arresting as the cult director's films themselves.

THE MUSEUM OF WES ANDERSON

JOHAN CHIARAMONTE AND CAMILLE MATHIEU

This museum in book form takes readers deep into the world of Wes Anderson. Bursting with an exhaustive and eclectic collection of film stills, accessories, clothes, souvenirs, books, and delightfully bizarre ephemera, this immersive treasury offers extraordinary insight into Wes Anderson's literary, musical, and cinematic influences, which range from Indian cinema, French pop music, Italian speed car racing, to The New Yorker magazine and the work of J. D. Salinger. Among the museum's artifacts are a recipe for a ham sandwich from The French Dispatch's Le Sans Blague café; the history of Tang—the drink of choice for the campers in Moonrise Kingdom; and the secret of L'Air de Panache, the cologne worn by the concierge of the Grand Budapest Hotel. Readers will discover Anderson's connections to the balalaika, The Beatles, and Benjamin Britten, and they'll discover how the filmmaker was inspired by the works of Hal Ashby, Satyajit Ray, Orson Welles, Mike Nichols, and Francis Ford Coppola. Perfect for dipping into and filled with information that will surprise even the most diehard Wes Anderson fan, this technicolor treasury is as profoundly entertaining as it is authoritative.

JOHAN CHIARAMONTE writes about film and American pop culture. CAMILLE MATHIEU is editor-in-chief at Rockyvision, a publishing and film company.

by: Nicholas van Hoogstraten

DESCRIPTION

This visual bonanza shines the spotlight on 750 striking advertising posters for the musicals and plays of Broadway's golden age and shares untold behind-the-scenes stories. Fans of the theatre will be thrilled to discover the original posters for hundreds of Broadway's biggest and most beloved hits, including My Fair Lady, The Fantasticks, Hello, Dolly!, Fiddler on the Roof, Death of a Salesman, A Raisin in the Sun, and A Streetcar Named Desire—plus rare and striking designs that tried in vain to sell some of the era's epic flops. In addition to being an important resource, this book is a fun read thanks to the inclusion of previously untold stories of the men and women behind the shows and the art. Featuring

- a treasure trove of masterpieces by the theatre's best illustrators, designers, photographers, and graphic artists, including Charles Addams, Peter Arno, Saul Bass, Eileen Darby, Whitney Darrow Jr., Hap Hadley, Al Hirschfeld, and David Klein;
- never-before-seen artist progressions from conception to completion, as well as alternate and rejected designs;
- facts and legends about the productions;
- a look at how the posters were used around the city;
- rare images—many one of a kind—sourced from private collections, archives, and libraries nationwide; and
- an index of artists and shows.

The deepest dive ever into this colorful corner of American show business, this opus boasts an appeal that goes far beyond just poster fans. Broadway Poster Art: 1945–1969 is a must-have for anyone with a love of the performing arts, graphic design, entertainment history, and Broadway's golden age.

NOTE: THE COVER IS CURRENTLY BEING REDESIGNED

An appealing book about Frida, by Frida, providing an original, fascinating insight into her life, thoughts, and feelings.

Reprinted in hardback with a beautiful new cover.

Frida Kahlo, the writer? Art critic Raquel Tibol gathers letters, poems, notes, protests, confessions, brief messages, and longer texts written by Kahlo to her friends, lovers and others.

In her writings, Kahlo employs, in Tibol's words, an "unreserved, imaginative language, heart and intimacy laid bare," that reveals her taste for neologisms, colloquial turns and the crossing of linguistic boundaries. The freedom of her language is a path towards sincerity, the origin of Kahlo's pictorial universe, with its recurring motifs: the bus accident that left the artist physically maimed at the age of 18; her anguished and demanding adolescent passion for Alejandro Gómez Arias; her complex and fascinating relationship with Diego Rivera; her illness as destiny; her political engagements; and her uncompromising quest for liberty. Here the reader will find Kahlo "swinging back and forth between sincerity and manipulation, self-complacency and selfflagellation, with her insatiable need for affection, her erotic upheavals, her touches of humor, setting no limits for herself, with a capacity for self-analysis and a deep humility." By gathering this material, until now scattered in archives and various published sources, Tibol offers us "a tacit autobiography and the placement of Frida within the intimate, confessional literature of the twentieth century in Mexico." This is a Frida Kahlo far removed from the distorted image so often found in films, plays and supposedly serious writings and studies.

Art and Literature

Based on a broad-ranging monographic exhibition at the Picasso Museum, Spain, of the various stages in the career of the Spanish-born painter María Blanchard (1881-1932).

Explore the captivating journey of María Blanchard, a Spanish painter whose remarkable talent was overlooked in her time due to prevailing gender biases in the art world.

Discover how Blanchard's personal struggles influenced her artwork, as themes of isolation, melancholy, and resilience permeate her paintings.

Witness Blanchard's artistic evolution from her early Cubist works to her later emotionally charged paintings, characterized by bold colors.

The catalog offers a chronological journey through the different stages in the artistic life of the Spanish painter María Blanchard (Santander, 1881-1932). Its aim is to highlight the symbolic richness and innovative character inherent in her work during her short artistic career. A substantial body of her work was not adequately appreciated in the cultural context of that time, which believed in the artistic inferiority of women. Committed to her unique way of living and creating until the end, she transcended the boundaries of gender stereotypes.

The vast repertoire of work she left behind, including maternity scenes, domestic scenes, children, and workers, reflects a heartfelt female concern for the vulnerability of the human condition and the evocative power of emotions. These aspects are reinforced by a meticulous technical mastery and a keen interest in the history and tradition of European painting.

Capturing the work and sensibility of Yamamoto on an unprecedented scale. Yamamoto brings Japanese traditions into modern pictures with poetic, lyrical images that transport and inspire.

Small Things in Silence offers a perspective on twenty years in the career of one of Japan's most famous photographers. In the words of Yamamoto himself: "I try to capture moments that no one sees and make a photo from them. When I seen them in print, a new story begins."

Born in 1957 in Gamagori, in the Japanese prefecture of Aichi, photographer Masao Yamamoto began his art studies as an oil painter. Masao subsequently discovered that photography was the ideal medium for the theme that most interested him: images with the ability to evoke memories.

Small Things in Silence includes images from each one of Yamamoto's major projects—Box of Ku, Nakazora, Kawa, and Shizuka—as well as images from some of his original photographic installations. Masao Yamamoto (1957, Japan) is known for his small photographs, which seek to individualize the photographic prints as objects.

With texts by Elena Dellapiana, Fulvio Irace, Gabriele Neri, Manuel Orazi, Francesco Parisi, Mario Piazza, Manfredo di Robilant, Paolo Rosselli and Cecilia Rostagni

Gio Ponti (Milan 1891–1979) was a key figure for Italian modernism; it is impossible to confine his legacy to a single creative field. From 1923 to 1930, Ponti was artistic director of the now cult Italian tableware manufacturer Richard Ginori. In 1928, he founded the internationally renowned magazine Domus, which – apart from a break in the 1940s – he continued to direct for the rest of his life. In the postwar era, Ponti and his associates Antonio Fornaroli and Alberto Rosselli shaped the architectural image of Milan, but were also active across the globe from Caracas, to Tehran, to Denver, to Islamabad, to Eindhoven. This book delves into the many components of Ponti's contribution to the twentieth century, and traces his enduring influence in Italy and across the globe.

MANFREDO DI ROBILANT holds a Ph.D. in the history of modern architecture from the Polytechnic of Turin, where he is Assistant Professor of Architectural Design. He was a research associate for the 14th Venice architecture Biennale, directed by Rem Koolhaas, and Visiting Scholar at CCA Montréal. His research interests focus on the relationship between utility and symbol in architecture. He is founder and partner of the architecture studio DAR architettura, with Giovanni Durbiano and Alessandro Armando.

MANUEL ORAZI is an editor at the Italian publishing house Quodlibet and is currently a visiting professor at the Academy of Architecture in Mendrisio, Switzerland. His research is embedded in the field of the history of twentieth-century architecture and the city. In 2021, he curated the exhibition Carlo Aymonino. Loyalty to betrayal (Electa, Milan 2021) during the Triennale of Milan. He collaborates regularly with the newspaper Il Foglio and with the magazines Domus, Log and Volume.

Revealing the creative process of an iconic designer

Kenya Hara

Draw

With text by Kenya Hara and an epilogue by Lars Müller

Kenya Hara inspires the world with his impeccable design – from the subtle atmospheres and environments he creates as the art director of Muji, to his ethereal exhibition designs, to his simple everyday objects, packaging and books. His design aesthetic can be traced back to a private practice: the diligent drafting of ideas and forms in delicate sketches and drawings which ultimately develop into convincing solutions.

For the first time in his career, Kenya Hara gives insight into the captivating early stages of his design process. Ranging from tentatively sketched beginnings to confident designs of complex concepts, Draw immerses readers in the renowned designer's forty-year-long process of sketching and drawing by hand, leaving no doubt about the origins of his authentic designs. Set to inspire the next generation of creatives, the book can be read as a gentle, persuasive call for the return to analogue processes in the design cycle.

KENYA HARA (*1958) is considered the most influential designer of present-day Japan. After graduating in design from the Musashino Art University of Kodaira in 1983, he worked as a curator and graphic designer before taking on the role of art director at Muji in 2002. Hara is president of the Nippon Design Center Inc. and head of the department of Science of Design at Musashino Art University. He has published widely on his design theory, including the books Designing Design (2007), White (2009), Designing Japan (2018) and 100 Whites (2019).

BEST FACE FORWARD SOME THOUGHTS ON THE PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPH

GERRY BADGER

"When we contemplate a portrait," says Gerry Badger in his introduction to this book, "we are asked to contemplate life. We are drawn powerfully to the person depicted." The relational aspect of portraiture comes into sharp focus through this personal selection of photographic portraits from the past two centuries. Here readers will find well-known works by widely recognized photographers together with lesser-known, but no less superb, pictures by lesserknown artists. Tied together with Badger's unique insights, these photographs reference and complement each other in an ongoing conversation about portrait photography's history, perspectives, and concerns. Each entry features a full-page duotone or color image accompanied by a brief essay. Badger's exacting insights and encyclopedic knowledge of his subject lead readers through a scintillating discussion that examines "death" portraits by Hippolyte Bayard and Sunil Gupta; issues of colonialism and racism through works by Malaysian photographer Yee I-Lann and Samuel Miller's portrait of Frederick Douglass; portraits of women from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries; and what is perhaps the first "celebrity" photograph of Sarah Bernhardt. Including a variety of mediums, from calotype and collage to palladium and inkjet prints, this volume is a marvelously enlightening masterclass on photographic portraiture, as well as a unique and valuable reference work.

GERRY BADGER is a renowned photographer and author of a number of books on the subject, including the award-winning two-volume The Photobook: A History, co-written with Martin Parr and The Pleasures of Good Photographs, which was awarded the International Center for Photography's Infinity Award in 2011.

An inspiring insight into artists' workshops and work processes from all over the world.

ARTISTS ON CREATIVE PROCESSES

How Ideas Are Born Miguel Ángel Pérez Arteaga

A collection of artists' portraits, where they talk about the difficulties to be and remain creative and how to overcome blocks.

This book should serve as a source of inspiration to help creative people overcome the obstacles that can appear during the production process. Featuring 25 genre-defying artists working outside the mainstream, it takes readers inside their work spaces and challenges them to focus on details that help reveal some of the secrets of their creative activity. In addition to the many images of their work, the artists, in their own words, shed light on the creative processes that made them possible. They explain why they create, what they are trying to say and how they look to literature, sculpture, music, theatre or scenes from everyday life to overcome creative blocks and selfdoubt and stay inspired and productive. Through their words and work, the contemporary painters, sculptors, photographers, muralists and textile artists that appear in this insightful and visually sumptuous book transmit the emotion, energy, individuality and irony that defines their artistic production and the creative processes behind it. Some artists included: Alexandra Duprez, Eltono, Soeurs Siamoises, Hermann Josef Hack, Gaia Bernasconi, Luca Giovagnoli. Johanna Schaible, Nicholas Stevenson, Sophie Woodrow, Michael McGrath, Cristina Sitja.

Miguel Ángel Pérez Arteaga is a graphic designer and co-founder of the design studio Batidora de Ideas. He is the author and illustrator of children's books published in Spain, Mexico and Brazil. His books include Graphic Designers on Creative Processes, Illustrators on Creative Process, Isidro Ferrer: About Nothin and The Art of Jesús Cisneros, all published by Hoaki Books. He participated in the exhibitions «Ready to Read - Book Design from Spain», a selection of the best books published in Spain, and «Ilustrísimos: An Overview of Children and Young Adults' Illustration in Spain» at the Bologna Fair. He has held numerous solo and group painting, photography and illustration exhibitions.

LEARN TO SEE, LEARN TO DRAW

The Definitive and Original Method for Picking Up Drawing Skills David Köder

Betty Edwards fruitful lessons updated by an experienced artist and drawing teacher with a sense of encouragement.

Drawing is a universal language, but not everybody feels capable of even giving it a go. This is a useful and engaging book about the pleasure of this activity, showing that, with some exercises, anybody can draw by learning to see first. Based on the renowned method by Betty Edwards and intended either for beginners or those who need a refresher course, this book is an updated and personal account by the author which will make the fear of drawing disappear for anyone willing to try. This is a completely different type of drawing method intended to help readers overcome their insecurities and anxieties and have fun learning to draw by learning to see. By looking at the world without the interference of what the left side of our brain assumes we are looking at, you will be able to draw whatever you see and capture it on paper. Humorous and enlightening, reading this book is sure to spark anyone's creativity.

For nearly 20 years, David Köder struggled to find access to the personal, coherent drawing that he had hoped for as a child. After attending several courses with Brian Bomeisler, however, the son of Betty Edwards, he found the key to his own drawing talent. In his first book, David Köder provides new introductory exercises while offering humorous and relatable insight into his own artistic practice.

ALEJANDRO MAGALLANES – THE ORDER OF CHAOS

Contemporary Graphic Designer Masters

Miguel Ángel Pérez Arteaga

A book featuring the wide-ranging work of internationally renowned Mexican graphic designer, illustrator and artist Alejandro Magallanes.

In this book featuring the work of internationally renowned Mexican graphic designer, illustrator, poet and artist Alejandro Magallanes, the author has selected from among thousands of posters, book illustrations, and works of art. It is divided into five sections that introduce the reader to a fascinating visual universe where Magallanes "illustrates with words and writes with images." In texts throughout the book, the artist discusses the diverse nature of his projects and reflects on his graphic style. Through this vast array of work, we can see how Magallanes's process for creating illustrations and designing advertisements for important firms is always changing. The resulting images can be poetic, intelligent, childish, mainstream and even sometimes grotesque. They are examples of the different visions of an adult who refuses to stop being a child, one who makes believe and plays all the time, twisting ideas, images and words that can become part of our memory and stay with us forever.

Miguel Ángel Pérez Arteaga is a graphic designer and cofounder of the design studio Batidora de Ideas. Author and illustrator of children's books published in Spain, Mexico and Brazil, his books include Graphic Designers on Creative Processes, Illustrators on Creative Process, Isidro Ferrer: About Nothing and The Art of Jesús Cisneros, all published by Hoaki Books. He participated in the exhibitions "Ready to Read - Book Design from Spain", a selection of the best books published in Spain, and "Ilustrísimos: An Overview of Children and Young Adults' Illustration in Spain" at the Bologna Book Fair. He has held numerous solo and group painting, photography and illustration exhibitions. Alejandro Magallenes is internationally recognized as a graphic designer, illustrator, poet, and artist. Born in Mexico City in 1971, he studied Graphic Design at the Escuela Nacional de Artes Plásticas of the National Autonomous University of Mexico. Magallanes experiments with poetry, animation/videos in his sculptures, photographs, and drawings. The recipient of multiple international awards, his work has been published in numerous books and magazines around the world. He has also written 10 children's books and two books of poetry.

Miguel Parga

A guide to making movies at home with whatever equipment you have, learning the basics of cinematographic and storytelling techniques.

Filmmaking, we are told in the introduction, is the "reverse engineering of dreams... a spell that brings dreams and visions to life." In this ultimate introductory filmmaking guide, the author, an Emmy Award-winning filmmaker who teaches acting, directing, writing, and editing at the New York Film Academy, provides readers with the bare bones information they need to help them get started making movies with whatever equipment they already have at hand. Essentially a book about craft, in straightforward layman's terms, the author explains the different stages in the filmmaking process, shedding light on storytelling methods for a visual medium. Readers learn what makes a good story and, through detailed examples and useful diagrams, how to construct a narrative in a compelling way, in addition to being introduced to such aspects of filmmaking as types of shots, directing actors on a set, choosing locations, lighting, linear and non-linear editing, and sound effects. A comprehensive primer on the craft of filmmaking, the book is ideal for amateur filmmakers, film students, film lovers, hobbyists, and anyone else interested in making movies and bringing their cinematic dreams and visions to life.

Miguel Parga has been in the film industry since 1997. Working for ABC Network News, he won an Emmy, a DuPont, and a Peabody Award for excellence in journalism. As a writer in Los Angeles, he worked on over 20 feature-length scripts and has also directed 21 short films, some of which have appeared in festivals throughout the world. #### SNEARERS: BIRTH OF

The creation of the first sneakers is attributable to Native Americans. While walking trails and on hunting trips, they protected their feet with a layer of natural latex, an early prototype of the rubber sole.

The first rubber-soled shoe was made in 1850 in England, but it wasn't until the 1866 Athens Olympics that it became a mass phenomenon. But the event that sealed the sneaker's reputation was the 1936 Berlin Olympics, when the great Jesse Owens wore a pair of adidas and won no less than four gold medals.

In the 1950s James Dean wore a pair with jeans and a leather Jacket, taking them from

The transition from simple gym shoe to fashion statement occurred in the 1980s, when the athlete Michael Jordan endorsed the Nike Air Jordan in an advertising campaign, transforming them into the sneakers par occellence. Next to sanction sneakers as an element of

GREAT BARS OF NEW YORK CITY 30 OF MANHATTAN'S FAVORITE STORIED DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

PHOTOGRAPHS BY JAMES T. AND KARLA L. MURRAY TEXT BY DAN Q. DAO

For nearly three centuries, people have been gathering in New York City taverns, bars, and pubs. Celebrating the historical significance of thirty of those establishments, this book features gorgeous full-color photographs by James and Karla Murray, the award-winning team behind Store Front NYC. Each drinking den is paired with engaging descriptions that capture the location's unique identity, penned by journalist Dan Q. Dao. There's the White Horse Tavern, frequented by writers such as Dylan Thomas and James Baldwin; the Stonewall Inn, renowned for its role in the LGBTQ+ rights movement; the King Cole Bar in the St. Regis Hotel, a sophisticated lounge adorned with a mural by Maxfield Parrish; and quintessential neighborhood dive Rudy's Bar & Grill, where cheap beer and free hot dogs are served with a side of vintage grittiness. Filled with legends and stories, it also includes a map. Whether they're looking to soak up some NYC history or raise a glass to fit their mood, this helpful guide will ensure readers that they'll find a place to have a good, stiff drink.

BROOKLYN STOREFRONTS ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE ICONIC NYC BOROUGH'S BEST-LOVED SPOTS

ILLUSTRATIONS BY JOEL HOLLAND, TEXT BY DAVID DODGE WITH A FOREWORD BY KIMBERLY DREW

Nowadays, Brooklyn is both destination and home to so many New Yorkers that shopping, eating out, doing errands, and going to cultural events can all be done without leaving the borough. A Brooklyn denizen for years, illustrator Joel Holland knows how special the place is. Imbuing his drawings with the same heart and panache that he brought to the Manhattan book, he takes readers on a trip into its far-flung neighborhoods, from Greenpoint to Coney Island; Bay Ridge to Brownsville. These pages highlight a telephone book's worth of small businesses that contribute to Brooklyn's multicultural, demographic-spanning appeal: Mom and Pop restaurants and African music sellers; clothing from Carhartt to vintage; vinyl and knitting stores that double as community centers; auto-repair shops and art galleries; and, of course, an endless supply of delis and pizza joints. Each illustration includes engaging anecdotes and bits of neighborhood lore researched and written by journalist David Dodge, helping bring additional flavor and context to Holland's drawings. This atlas of Brooklyn's best retail is a love letter to a vibrant, ever-changing community.

JOEL HOLLAND is an illustrator who has lived in New York City for over twenty years. His work has graced the New York Times, the New Yorker, Apple store windows across the world, and numerous book covers. He is the author of NYC Storefronts and London Shopfronts (both published by Prestel). DAVID DODGE is a journalist covering travel, LGBTQ+ issues, politics, and culture for outlets including the New York Times, Travel + Leisure, Out, and Newsweek. He is the co-author of Sassy Planet, Category Is: Cocktails!, and NYC Storefronts (all published by Prestel). He lives in New York City. KIMBERLY DREW is a curator at Pace Gallery as well as an author, critic, and activist; she lives in Brooklyn.

Photographs by Iwan Baan and Naho Kubota With texts by Ted Baab, Florian Idenburg, Karilyn Johanesen, Nicolas Kemper and Jing Liu

For over a decade, Brooklyn-based SO-IL has been envisioning houses, housings and other projects in between and adjacent to domestic spaces. Reflecting on the state of housing design today – often constrained by pressures of production – SO-IL approaches these sites with generous experimentation. In this book, the design office's attempt to "hack" the codes, cores, courts and corridors takes center stage, exemplified by a selection of SO-IL's most recent projects, exploring concepts including porosity, connectivity, community and orientation in urban living. Appealing to students and professionals alike, In Depth examines how housing might promote the well-being of its inhabitants by presenting new typologies for our ever-more urbanized world.

JING LIU, born in 1980 in China, is a founding partner at SO–IL. Liu grew up on three continents and in five cities, and is currently teaching and working from her base in Brooklyn. FLORIAN IDENBURG (1975, the Netherlands) is also a founding partner at SO–IL and Professor of the Practice at Cornell University AAP.

This book describes how Japanese culture has built an entire mythical world around 25 everyday animals.

A JAPANESE BESTIARY

Animals in Japanese Mythology, Arts and Literature

Nelly Delay, Dominique Ruspoli

An art book with insightful literary texts featuring twenty-eight real-life animals by some of the most celebrated Japanese artists and craftsmen. Every animal, from the frightening crow to the sublime crane, is sacred, occupying a central place in Japanese mythology, literature, arts, and crafts. In this text-rich art book, readers will find twenty-eight real-life animals, including the fox, frog, cat, monkey, and firefly, described in texts combining haikus, tales and anecdotes from everyday life and illustrated with objects produced by the some of the most celebrated Japanese artists and craftsmen. Readers will see just how central animals are to Japanese legends and literature but also in the latest manga and animated films. In some cases, the animals are transformed and endowed with human attributes; in others, through a representative selection of Japanese art they appear lovingly portrayed in their natural element. While most of the animals in this Japanese bestiary are good omens, even ones a tad mischievous, downright evil or uniquely sacred are invested with strong symbolism and have become extremely popular in a country where everything is seen as ephemeral and transient, yet everything remains. Japanese Bestiary is an ideal book for anyone interested in Japanese drawing and painting, animal illustrations and wildlife art and literature.

Nelly Delay was an art historian who specialised in antique and ancient Japanese art. She organized Japanese art events in Paris from 1974 to 1984, publishing texts on little-explored subjects and books on old Japanese drawings and paintings and the influence of Japanese culture on Western art. Since 1989, she has devoted herself to publications and conferences within the framework of different cultural organizations and the OECD.

Dominique Ruspoli is a writer and photographer. She holds a PhD in Philosophy from Sorbonne University, France, specialising in the aesthetics of Western thought. In addition to lecturing on written communication and psychology, she has also published books on the Japanese artists Hokusai, Hiroshige and Kyôsai. Since 2000, she has been a member of the College of Pataphysics - The Science of Imaginary Solutions.

Highlighting many examples of previously unseen and unusual garments from one of the preeminent kimono collections, this dazzling volume explores the Khalili Collection of kimono's powerful selection of modernity and propaganda pieces from the first half of the twentieth century.

KIMONO IMAGES OF CULTURE 1915–1950 IN THE KHALILI COLLECTIONS

JAQUELINE ATKINS

One of the most recognizable aspects of Japanese culture, the kimono was once a vital everyday garment worn by adults and children across Japan. While the basic form of the T-shaped, straight-seamed, front-wrapping kimono has changed very little over the centuries, the onset of the twentieth century ushered in a variety of influences, including western-style clothing; a desire for practicality and comfort; the emergence of Japanese identity in the wake of World War II; pop culture; and high fashion. Featuring more than two hundred full color photographs and insightful commentary by Jacqueline Atkins, renowned textile historian, this volume introduces readers to the concepts of Omoshirogara kimono or "amusing/interesting" garments," and Sensōgara, or war/propaganda garments. It details changes in fabrics and production techniques and explores differences across gender and age. A vibrant survey of an important and rarely covered aspect of Japanese culture, this volume chronicles the kimono's dynamic role against the backdrop of social, cultural, and global change.

JAQUELINE ATKINS is a consultant at the Kubota Kimono Collection, Itchiku Kubota Museum and has curated for Fenimore Art Museum in New York, and the International Chodiev Foundation. She is author of Wearing Propaganda: Textiles on the Home Front in Japan, Britain and the United States and Shared Threads: Quilting Together Past and Present.

Featuring breathtaking photographs of masks created by a renowned twenty-first-century craftsman, this book provides a unique perspective into noh and kyogen, two of the oldest surviving forms of theater in the world.

NOH AND KYOGEN MASKS TRADITION AND MODERNITY IN THE ART OF KITAZAWA HIDETA

JANNETTE CHEONG AND RICHARD EMMERT

Kitazawa Hideta is a traditional Japanese master craftsman, Shinto-temple carver and mask maker for both classical noh and kyogen theater. This gorgeous volume features more than sixty of his performance masks, presented in striking full-page photographs that allow readers to appreciate their level of detail. These meticulous creations are carved from hinoki wood, decorated with layers of gesso-paint, and thin watercolor antiquing, and sometimes include materials such as horsehair and gold paint. Readers are introduced first to classical and then to contemporary noh and kyogen masks and are invited into Hideta's workshop to explore the characteristics of the wood he uses, and the processes of creating, restoring, and wearing the masks. An overview of the basic elements of noh and kyogen theater, and reflections from museums that have worked with Kitazawa, complete this vibrant, immersive journey that celebrates the work of a contemporary artist who is not only preserving a centuriesold theatrical tradition, but also remaking it for modern audiences.

JANNETTE CHEONG is a poet, playwright, and designer. She has collaborated with Oshima Noh Theatre, Richard Emmert, and Kitazawa Hideta for almost two decades. Uniquely, she has written three noh pieces in English: Pagoda (2009, 2011); Opposites-InVerse (2017), blending noh, opera and ballet; and Between the Stones (2020). She lives in London. RICHARD EMMERT is the founder and former artistic director of Theatre Nohgaku, which is dedicated to performing noh in English. He has worked in North America, Europe and Asia and has composed music in noh style for English, French, and Spanish language noh. Awarded the Koizumi Prize in 2019, he is Professor Emeritus of Musashino University. He lives in Tokyo.

Sake is more than just a beverage—it is an art form deeply embedded in the fabric of Japanese heritage. Expertly researched and written by one of the few women to be awarded the prestigious Master of Sake Tasting qualification, this sumptuous, wide-ranging volume features lavishly illustrated chapters that explore the beverage's role in Japanese history and tradition; its production, key ingredients, and sourcing; aroma and taste profiles; and pairing it with food. Filled with beautiful full-page photographs, this book showcases the rituals and customs of sake drinking and profiles prominent rice farmers and brewers. It illustrates the different varieties of rice and the fundamental production processes from rice-polishing to aging. Readers will learn about sake tasting; various types of drinking vessels; and the fundamental flavors and styles of Japanese cuisine. Breathtaking in its sweep and allure, this uniquely comprehensive book invites enthusiasts and connoisseurs alike to immerse themselves in the history, culture, and craftsmanship behind every glass of Japan's famed rice wine.

Originally from Japan, YOSHIKO UENO-MÜLLER, is a certified sommelier and now lives in Germany running a sake import company together with her husband.

RELEASE (EUROPE & UK): SEPTEMBER 2024

A complete guide on how to source and prepare essential ingredients for traditional, homemade Italian cuisine at home.

The quality of Italian cuisine is based on the quality of its ingredients. For Italians, the quality of the basic ingredients in their dishes is everything. For some, it's even as important as the air they breathe. This is why classic, homemade Italian food is incomparable to any other in the world. Its richness of taste belies its apparent simplicity, and it's all down to the superior quality of those timeless, key elements that truly makes traditional Italian cooking so flavourful. Originale is not just another recipe book. It is, in essence, a guide. A manual on how to do it like the Italians. The dozens of inspiring recipes within these pages are built from a handful of crucial ingredients that, if sourced correctly—as detailed in this book—can transport you directly to the kitchens of Rome, Naples, or Bologna via your own plate. Originale is lovingly curated to celebrate the enduring nature of Italian cuisine, its history, and culture. Buon appetito!

'Do you want to turn your baking hobby into a microbusiness?

Because if you do, you should get this book.'

Dame Prue Leith, author, cook and TV presenter

This unique guide updated, expanded and completely revised. In 2011, the food and farming charity Sustain published Knead to Know – the Real Bread Campaign's groundbreaking book for budding bakery businesses before Grub Street took over publishing it worldwide.

Much has changed in the years since. Bakers in the campaign's network have racked up a wealth of knowledge and experience to share, and so Real Bread Campaign coordinator Chris Young has completely re-written the book to produce this revised and expanded edition, Knead to Know...More. In his foreword, Bread Matters, Real Bread Campaign and Scotland the Bread co-founder, Andrew Whitley, writes: "This is a remarkable book. Not only because knowhow springs from every page and transforms into practical wisdom before our eyes, but because it has been fermented by the desire to do good."

At around double the length of the original book, the new edition is even more packed with information and advice for start-up bakery entrepreneurs on business planning, equipment, surplus reduction, marketing and more. It goes on to help guide bakers expanding their businesses, including moving to larger premises, taking on staff members and wellbeing. Sandwiched between these wholesome slices are tasty titbits from genuine artisan Real Bread bakeries of all types and sizes.

While mainly aimed at microbakers in the UK, the new edition includes advice specifically for readers in Australia, Canada, Ireland, New Zealand and the USA, where the original edition was also devoured.

NOW IN PAPERBACK

Dairy goes vegan! The recipes in this book are all temptingly good. They are clear and simple and you are led through each process step-by-step. In the introduction to the book, which is beautifully illustrated with colour photographs throughout, you have all the information you need about the essential ingredients (and not just soya), kitchen utensils and the various fermentation starters that are available, how to make them yourself, which other ingredients are helpful and above all where you get them.

You will find all sources listed. There are basic recipes, such as cashew cheese, on which other recipes then build and a whole range of vegan 'milk classics' to make. Vegan cheese, yogurt, tofu, milk, cream and butter are surprisingly diverse and easy to prepare. The wealth of recipes spans the spectrum from tomato rosemary cheese made from almonds, fermented by Rejuvelac and herbal cream cheese from coconut cream, almond crème fraîche to chickpea tofu. There is even a recipe for cheese dip for nachos, and macand-cheese.

In addition to the cheeses, you will find plenty of spreads, butters with different flavours and full-bodied delicacies such as ricotta or mascarpone. And there are faster variants such as the 'pizza cheese'. Finally there is a chapter covering vegan drinks such as almond milk, oat drink, quick nut milk with nutmeg and soy milk. So who needs to buy drinks in the supermarket when you can make them much healthier and cheaper yourself?

You'll be surprised how little effort vegan products take to make at home. Once again proof that the vegan diet is quite versatile.

'The hardest thing to give up as a vegan? Cheese. Fear no more you can make incredible "cheese" at home, that will sort out your cravings for good.'

Nick Moyle

Description

Celebrate the craft of gin with this intoxicating guide to the history, culture and production of the world's favourite spirit

From juniper berries to coriander, and citrus peel to exotic spices, the endless variety of gin flavours makes it one of the most versatile and beloved drinks today. Go on a spirited journey into the secrets and stories behind this iconic drink with The Little Book of Gin. Discover the history, production and culture of gin and learn how your favourite gins are created through the art of botanical blending.

In this pocket guide, you will find:

- The differences between various styles of gin, including London Dry, Old Tom and the resurgence of barrel-aged gins.
- An in-depth look at the production process, detailing the various botanicals that contribute to gin's distinctive flavours.
- The art of mixology, featuring classic gin cocktails like the Martini and the Gimlet, as well as innovative creations that showcase gin's versatility as a spirit.

Filled to the brim with fascinating facts, this handy little book is perfect for gin experts, aspiring aficionados and anyone looking for some gin-spiration.

Sales Points

- This handy guide is a must-read for anyone with an interest in spirits, cocktails or the cultural and historical significance of gin.
- Gin is the UK's most popular spirit, beating whisky and vodka, with UK gin sales being worth £950 million in 2022.
- Similar Summersdale titles include: The Little Book of Wine (ISBN: 9781800079984); The Little Book of Cocktails (ISBN: 9781849535854); The Little Book of Mocktails (ISBN: 9781800071506).

Author Biography

Nick Moyle is a graphic designer by day and a writer by night, specializing in drinks (particularly those that contain alcohol). Although he lives in the cider county of Somerset, UK, he also flexes his tastebuds on beers, whiskies, gins and more. Some of these he makes himself from home-grown and foraged ingredients, but he is more likely to be found down the pub sampling the efforts of professional drink makers.

KNIT IT OUT 12 KNITTING PATTERNS WITH MORE THAN 30 VARIATIONS

LÆRKE BAGGER

One of Europe's most popular and talented young textile stars, Lærke Bagger is also a vocal proponent of knitting as therapy. In her latest combination of memoir and knitting guide, she shares the poignant story of her relationship with her father from his early abandonment of the family to their reconciliation and his death. Woven throughout these personal essays are a number of chic and quirky new patterns—including the Inner Child sweater, the Let It All Hang Out scarf, and Lærke's version of the Scandinavian classic, which she calls the Family sweater. She shows how to adapt each pattern for a child, and—in a delightful tribute to her own obsession—for a Barbie doll as well. As Lærke knits her way through grief, an identity crisis, and the reconstruction of her family life, she offers support for knitters on their own journeys of self-acceptance: tips for embracing imperfection, clever project-saving strategies, and the encouragement to experiment with ribbons, beads, fringes and different types of yarn. Knitters familiar with Lærke's joyfully laid-back attitude will be delighted to find new avenues for their creativity. A new crop of fans will discover a wise and encouraging teacher, who celebrates rule-breaking, innovation, and the practice of knitting through your feelings.

LÆRKE BAGGER holds a master's degree in design from The Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts. Her work includes knitting patterns and books; she hosts workshops and lectures; and has made several corporate collaborations. In 2020, she was nominated for newcomer of the year in the prestigious Elle Style Awards. During the first Covid-19 lockdown, Lærke shared a free knitting project under the hashtag #alonetogethersweater which has been knitted and shared by millions around the world. Her successful first book Close Knit was published by Prestel.

Marking Time with Fabric and Thread

Calendars, Diaries, and Journals within Your Fiber Craft

by: Tommye McClure Scanlin - Sarah C. Swett

DESCRIPTION

Unlock daily creativity with this guide for recording time by using fiber craft.

Using weaving, stitching, quilting, or other fiber arts every day to better notice the passing of time offers you more than an arresting artwork. In fact, a creative daily practice transforms your making and is likely to become one of your favorite parts of the day. But time is complicated, so how to begin? Renowned tapestry weaver Tommye McClure Scanlin answers that question for all makers who love working with fabric, fibers, and textiles. Well known for her tapestry diaries, she explores with you how to capture your own time in your artwork. Enjoy photos of their "time capsule" pieces from over 25 makers, plus their experiences of the process and benefits of daily practice. Then, using Tommye's simply explained methods, begin your own personal calendar, journal, or diary. A foreword by Sarah C. Swett reminds us of the mix of adrenaline and power that's available to fiber crafters who truly realize that everything they make is an attempt to capture time.

The Little Instruction Book for Seniors Hilarious Advice for Growing Old Disgracefully Kate Freeman (Illustrated By Ian Baker)

Description

Full of senior sagacity and elderly erudition, this hilarious survival guide is on hand to show you that it really is the life in your years that counts

Now that you're a senior, you'll come to realize that there is nothing that can't be fixed by a quick trip to the garden centre, that your "bad back" will reliably get you out of any tricky situation and that it's now socially acceptable to call anyone younger than you "Dear" rather than remember their actual name. In other words, now the real fun begins!

Encouraging you to laugh, embrace life and enjoy the ride, the pearls of wisdom in this no-nonsense handbook will guide you through all the pleasures and pitfalls of your latter years.

Filled with original illustrations and tongue-in-cheek advice on how to keep those grey cells active and the cobwebs at bay, The Little Instruction Book for Seniors will make the perfect gift for retirees or a milestone birthday.

Saint Hildegard's Guide to Wellness

Herbalism, Nutrition, and Health Advice from a Trailblazing Medieval Nun

by: Holger Vornholt

DESCRIPTION

This overview of Hildegard of Bingen's wellness wisdom shows how modern readers can apply the medieval nun's teachings on herbs and nutrition to live a balanced and healthful lifestyle today

Saint Hildegard was ahead of her time. Born in the German Rhineland, the 12th-century nun established a series of guidelines for holistic wellness that continue to be remarkably relevant nearly a millennium later.

This handy guide explains who Hildegard was and why she is still worth listening to today. Delving into her enduring theories for a healthy body and mind, it delivers:

- an overview of Hildegard's understanding of how the human body operates;
- Hildegardian nutrition tips (eat spelt!);
- information on her 50 favorite herbs and medicinal plants and how they can be used to address various ailments—for example, bay laurel for gastrointestinal complaints, garlic to lower blood pressure, masterwort to combat fever, and rosemary to treat coughs and colds; and
- an introduction to her ideas on herbal cosmetics and gemstone medicine.

Sharing Saint Hildegard's timeless knowledge with a modern audience, this sketch of the trailblazing nun promotes a holistic approach to well-being that continues to resonate even within the fast pace of our contemporary lifestyle.

AUTHOR BIO

Holger Vornholt has been working as a freelance author for various German book publishers since 1996. He specializes in the areas of history, health, and enjoyment. He has written numerous articles and books on the topics of healthful eating and drinking. He lives with his family in Augsburg, Germany.

This accessible and thought-provoking guide will take you on a captivating exploration of the fundamental questions that form our decisions and actions, asking, what is the right thing to do in a certain set of circumstances? What can we base our decision on? Is there always a correct decision, or is it always a bit unclear?

This pocket-sized introduction offers a comprehensive overview of major ethical theories and philosophical ideas, including:

- The key concepts of ethics, from moral reasoning and consequentialism to moral responsibility, deontology and virtue ethics
- Real-world ethical dilemmas, such as bioethics and environmental ethics, and how to apply these principles to your own life
- The significance of ethical reasoning in everyday life, as well as its impact on broader societal issues

This illuminating little book will introduce you to the key thinkers, themes and theories you need to know to navigate the intricate tapestry of human morality. A perfect gift for anyone taking their first steps into the world of ethics, as well as for those who want to brush up their knowledge.

The Beatles in America The Stories, the Scene, the Memories

by: Spencer Leigh - Mike Evans

DESCRIPTION

This is the definitive, fully illustrated account of the Beatles' concerts and controversies, and of how the United States dominated their lives in so many ways.

Written by one of the acknowledged experts on the Fab Four, Liverpool's own Spencer Leigh, this volume includes interviews with fellow musicians, promoters, and audience members, together with rare photographs and memorabilia.

Early in 1964, with Beatlemania raging in the UK, the Beatles topped the US charts with "I Want to Hold Your Hand" and became a sensation on American TV with The Ed Sullivan Show—on which they appeared no fewer than three occasions, on consecutive Sundays in February 1964. In April 1964, they held all Top Five positions on the Billboard Hot 100 and were playing such prestigious venues as Carnegie Hall, the Hollywood Bowl, and Shea Stadium. As Epstein predicted, they had become bigger than Elvis—after their first appearances of 1964 (at Carnegie Hall and in Washington, DC), the band went on to do a full North American tour in 1964, a shorter tour in 1965, and a final, 13-date tour in 1966 (each of which is covered in detail), transforming them into global superstars—but when John Lennon commented that the band was "bigger than Jesus," things turned sour, and there were public burnings of their records. The final chapter and epilogue of the book take the story of "the Beatles in America" up to the band's breakup and beyond, including John and Yoko's June 1, 1969, "Bed-In" in Montreal and the release of the couple's single "Give Peace a Chance."

AUTHOR BIO

Spencer Leigh was born in Liverpool in 1945. His On The Beat program has been broadcast on BBC Radio Merseyside for 30 years, and he has contributed to several BBC music documentaries. He writes obituaries for the British newspaper The Independent, and features for several magazines including Country Music

People, Now Dig This, and Record Collector. A musician on the Liverpool rock scene in the 1960s, playing the Cavern and other venues made famous by the Beatles, Mike Evans witnessed first hand the rise of the "Fab Four" from local heroes to international superstars. In the 1970s he was a regular contributor to Melody Maker and in 1984 curated The Art of the Beatles exhibition that was staged in Liverpool, Tokyo, and Cologne, also writing the highly acclaimed book of the same name.

Curtiss Motorcycles

by: Richard Leisenring

DESCRIPTION

The first and only book on the motorcycles designed, engineered, and raced by aviation icon and renowned engineering genius Glenn H. Curtiss.

Glenn H. Curtiss is one of the most important pioneers of aviation and is considered one of the greatest engineering minds of the early 20th century. Curtiss was the chief rival of the Wright brothers in the very early days of flight. He was much more than a pilot and aircraft designer, however. The Hammondsport, New York, native's first experience with speed and engineering was with bicycles and, very shortly afterward, with motorcycles. From 1902 to 1912, Curtiss and his team built, sold, and raced engines and complete motorbikes out of their shop in Hammondsport. In 1907, Glenn himself set a world land speed record of 136 mph on board his extreme V-8-powered bike. He was labeled the fastest man on Earth until 1911 and the fastest man on a motorcycle until 1930!

This is the complete history of the motorcycles produced by the Curtiss company from 1902 to 1912, authored by Richard Leisenring Jr., the curator emeritus of the Glenn H. Curtiss Museum in Hammondsport.

In these pages, readers will learn:

- the history of all the motorcycles engineered and built by Glenn Curtiss—including the Hercules, Erie, Marvel, and Curtiss models—and why they are still collectible and sought after today;
- how Glenn Curtiss went from building motorcycles in his home shop to an engineering and aviation icon; and
- how Curtiss's work with motorcycles served as a gateway to his later engineering work on balloons, travel and commercial trailers, airplanes, and other projects.

Included are more than 100 photos, most of which are rarely seen vintage photos from the archives of the Curtiss Museum. Explore the early years, engineering beginnings, and motorcycles of Glenn H. Curtiss—a true engineering genius.

AUTHOR BIO

Richard Leisenring Jr. served as curator at the Glenn H. Curtiss Museum for 20 years until his retirement in 2023. He has been a professional historian and museum specialist for 45 years. He lives in Bath, New York.

Curtiss Aerocar

by: Andrew Woodmansey

DESCRIPTION

The first-ever history of an innovative recreational and commercial trailer designed and built by engineering and aviation pioneer and icon Glenn H. Curtiss.

The complete history of the Curtiss Aerocar, a groundbreaking travel trailer that blended the genius of Glenn H. Curtiss with the principles of aircraft design. Curtiss was a passionate engineering and aviation pioneer who is considered one of the leading engineering minds of the 20th century. His work on motorcycles, balloons, airplanes, and of course, the Aerocar set engineering standards for decades to come. Curtiss originally conceived the Aerocar purely for his own use and was at first reluctant to make it available to the public. But eventually, Curtiss used his engineering creativity to put the Aerocar into production, and it evolved from a personal passion project to a commercial sensation that endured long after Curtiss's time.

In these pages, readers will

- discover how the Aerocar pioneered safe and comfortable long-distance road travel by integrating aircraft design principles;
- learn how Glenn Curtiss's obsession with safety led to many innovative engineering and safety features like the Aero Coupler, the first fifth-wheel hitch to be used in a production recreational vehicle and one of the safest trailer hitches of any period; and
- uncover a treasure trove of previously unpublished images from the Curtiss family archives.

Written by noted RV historian Andrew Woodmansey in partnership with the Glenn H. Curtiss Museum of Hammondsport, New York, this comprehensive volume covers both the highly successful commercial versions of the Aerocar and the lavish coach-built luxury variants. It's a must-have for enthusiasts of design, recreational vehicles, travel, and transportation history.

AUTHOR BIO

Andrew Woodmansey is a recreational-vehicle historian based in Sydney, Australia. His first RV history book, Recreational Vehicles: A World History, 1872–1939, was published in January 2022. Laurence Catlow is considered one of the finest classical flyfishing writers of our times and here he explores the themes close to an angler's heart:

- why catching two trout each time matters so much to him
- the experience of fishing in contrast to a day's shooting
- the melancholy appeal of autumn fishing
- the difference between holiday fishing and home fishing
- the secrets of a flytyer
- starting the season on the river
- big trout or little trout: why he prefers the latter
- why fishing is a lifelong joy
- fishing the mayfly

'The best flyfishing book to cross my desk this year, without a doubt. Catlow's writing is easily accessible, simple English fused into passages that flow like a chalkstream glide, littered with lines that sit in the memory long after their page has turned.'

Trout Fisherman, Jeffrey Prest, 4 January

Brought up on a farm, Colin Whittemore's life was interwoven with dogs from the start.

He writes of the welsh sheepdogs his father used on his dairy farm to bring in the cattle twice daily, but also of the farm dogs taken to the pub to lie silently under a table.

He observes that these working dogs never played, chased a ball or fetched sticks: farm dogs took their delight in working, whether rounding up livestock, ratting or guarding.

But throughout his life his mother also had 'house dogs', adored pets which she trusted implicitly to accompany children as they roamed freely all day long in the countryside, relied on to stop youngsters from getting in dangerous situations or to run for help.

Colin writes with first-hand experience of the 'gatherings' when different hill farmers let their dogs use their own initiative out of sight, returning lost sheep from miles away, working as a team.

He writes of settling in new puppies, choosing dogs, dogs choosing their 'masters', gun dogs, terriers, collies and his beloved teckels, the companions of much of his life and his old age.

He also writes movingly about the family dogs in his life who have bonded humans together, seen them through hardships, shown wisdom often lacking in their owners.

Gestapo Hunter explores the charmed life and exceptional career of Ted Sismore, widely considered one of the RAF's very best wartime navigators and leaders. A quiet, unassuming man who was nicknamed 'Daisy' on account of his youthful complexion, Ted Identified by Basil Embry, the mercurial AOC of 2 Group, as something of a kindred spirit, Ted joined the Group's HQ staff, planning Operation Jericho, the famous attack on the prison at Amiens on 18 February 1944 and taking part on 31 October later that year in another 'spectacular' to bomb the Gestapo HQ at Aarhus in Denmark. Raids on the SS and Gestapo became something of a speciality, Ted leading further pinpoint bombing attacks on 'Shell House' in Copenhagen (Operation Carthage) and the Gestapo HQ at Odense.

After the war, Ted teamed up with Mick Martin, the famous Dambuster, to break the flying record from London to Cape Town, in 1947, a journey of almost 7,000 miles. He later qualified as a pilot, flying Meteors, Javelins and Canberras, retiring as an air commodore. He died in 2012.

Lockheed Constellation

A Legends of Flight Illustrated History

by: Wolfgang Borgmann

DESCRIPTION

The Lockheed Constellation is the definitive postwar prop airliner. The type was developed during the Second World War by a talented and famous development team, which included Howard Hughes and Kelly Johnson. This book provides a colorful illustrated history of the type.

Readers will enjoy several hundred vintage photographs featuring aircraft and airlines from all over the world. There is ample coverage for all three major commercial variants of the aircraft: the Constellation, the Super Constellation, and the Starliner. Wartime service by military versions is also described.

She was affectionally named "Mona Lisa of the Skies" by her fans, and the Constellation's graceful lines were the epitome of elegance and beauty in the "golden age" of air transport. One chapter is dedicated to the special features and extra comforts provided by luxury carriers.

Even freighter models and conversions are detailed in their own chapter as well.

AUTHOR BIO

Wolfgang Borgmann's enthusiasm for aviation was passed on to him by his parents, who were active in the aviation field. In his early years, he began building up an aviation historical collection that provides numerous rare photos and documents, as well as exciting background information, for his books. Since April 2000, Borgmann has been active as an author and freelance aviation journalist. He lives in Oerlinghausen, Germany. His website is www.aerojournalist.de.

LET'S MAKE A CHANGE THE UNITED NATIONS' 17 GOALS FOR A BETTER WORLD

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY JUDITH DREWS

In 2015, 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) were adopted by all United Nations Member States as part of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Each goal addresses a specific aspect of global challenges and aims to promote social, economic, and environmental sustainability. This book explains each of these goals through compelling illustrations paired with brief descriptions that will spark curiosity and conversation about creating a sustainable and inclusive world. Vibrant images from a wide array of cultures and backgrounds will inspire young people to reflect on important issues, such as poverty and climate change, access to healthcare and education, equality and economic stability. While these are big goals, this book encourages even the smallest readers to embrace the notion that they, too, can be champions for a better, more sustainable future.

JUDITH DREWS is an internationally renowned illustrator and designer based in Berlin, Germany. She is the author of more than fifty children's books published in more than fifteen countries around the world.

We want new ideas to improve our living conditions and preserve the environment.

In our daily lives, we often have to travel long distances. We journey from home to school, to the playground or to the doctor's office. In big cities, these places can be far away from each other, while rural areas sometimes lack them altogether. It's important that schools, hospitals and other public places are easy to reach for everyone, even when they don't have a car. To achieve this goal, we need public transportation that all can use. We also need new inventions that help improve everyone's lives - but without harming people or the environment.

> We need you, because you are interested in technology, and your mind is filled with great ideas.

Industry, innovation and infrastructure

Reduced inequalities

Sustainable cities and communities

Responsible consumption and production

Climate action
Take urgent action to combat climate change and its effects.

Life below water

Peace, justice and strong institutions omote peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development, provide access to satice for all and build effective, accountable and inclusive institutions at all levels.

Partnerships for the goals

Strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the Global Partnership for Sustainable Development.

We want health and well-being for all.

All of us get ill sometimes, but not all sick people receive good care. Some places in the world, especially rural areas, don't have enough medical staff. People there often have to travel far to get help. There are also countries where medical treatments are very expensive. Poor people often can't afford treatment or medicine, so they don't go to the doctor at all, even though they are ill.

We need YOU, because you know everyone should be able to go to the doctor when they are ill.

From morning to night, there's loads of fun and furry friends to be found in this colorful depiction of a very busy day for a family in the city.

This heartwarming picture book about Carlo, a young Italian immigrant in 1800s New York City, celebrates books and family as it instills the values of heritage, perseverance, and the love of learning.

Transcending borders and generations, Bound to Dream: An Immigrant Story follows Carlo as he leaves his home in Italy and travels far away to New York City to create a new life. Carlo finds a job as a bookbinder and learns the skills of the trade, cultivating a love of books, words, and stories that he passes to future generations.

Featuring stunning, atmospheric illustrations depicting Carlo's immigrant journey, this picture book is based on the experiences of the author's great-grandfather. The uplifting true story shows children ages four to eight how their family history is still alive in them today.

PRODUCED BY EACH ANIMAL MUSICIAN!

Stories and Music for All Eyes and Ears! www.thesecretmountain.com

ANIMAL MUSICIANS

Text Pedro Alcalde Illustrations Julio Antonio Blasco

Discover the musical talents of 14 animals, from singing humpback whales to howling wolves.

Travel across the seven continents to discover how nature's best musicians use their voices or bodies to create a symphony. On the world stage, gibbons love to break into song at sunrise, while humpback whales prefer to perform the same tune for an entire day. Wolves enjoy choir singing before setting off to hunt, and Chinese torrent frogs are excellent at carrying a tune without ever producing two identical notes.

Learn about the characteristics, habitats, and behaviours of 14 animal virtuosos from around the world.

The author's understanding of music and musicianship opens a whole new window into the animal world. KIRKUS REVIEWS

A fascinating survey of living creatures who are uniquely talented natural musicians. MIDWEST BOOK REVIEW

Pedro Alcalde has conducted numerous prestigious orchestras in Madrid, Berlin, Rome, Osaka, and St. Petersburg, among other major international cities. His multidisciplinary interests led him to work on the first film directed by John Malkovich, The Dancer Upstairs in 2002, which won the Nino Rota Soundtrack Award at the Venice Film Festival. Julio Antonio Blasco studied fine arts at the Polytechnic University of Valencia in Spain and has been working as an illustrator and graphic designer for the past 20 years.

Double Felix

Sally Harris, illustrated by Maria Serrano

"Eleven-year-old Felix Twain's life revolves around the number two."

He skips every second step when he takes the stairs, taps door handles twice and positions objects in pairs. The problem has become so bad that Felix is on the verge of being expelled from school because the principal has had enough of trying to run the school around his very specific rules.

Then Charlie Pye arrives and turns his world upside down. She's grown up with very few rules. She eats cereal for lunch, calls a boat home, and has a very loose interpretation of school uniform. The question is, can Felix ever learn to be wrong when he is so obsessed with being right?

The Mathematics of the Universe

by: Soledad Romero Mariño - Renee Hao

DESCRIPTION

The lyrical verses and captivating illustrations of this picture book explore how the concepts and patterns of mathematics shape the natural world.

The universe seems in such disarray, but it follows an order, not one thing astray. So the planets and stars have been created, atoms brought together as if they were fated.

Nature's secrets are brought to life through an innovative blend of science, poetry, and art, making complex math concepts accessible and engaging for children aged five to nine. Young readers will discover the hidden mathematical patterns in everyday phenomena, from honeycombs and butterflies to celestial bodies and intricate geometric shapes.

- This charming STEM educational resource encourages students to see the world through a mathematical lens.
- Spheres, hexagons, symmetry, fractals, and spirals are among the concepts explored.
- Each mathematical concept is presented alongside an observation, linking math to the universe's natural rhythms.
- Thought-provoking quotes from renowned figures such as Galileo, Marcel Proust, and Jules Verne add depth to the learning experience.
- The book's large size, die-cut cover, and gorgeous art make it ideal for gifting and displaying.

Ancient Greece

What Would You Be? series

About the book

Discover ancient Greece through the eyes of the young people who live there. Meet teenagers like Timarete, a young woman artist, and Cosimo, a trainee bard. There's Lysander, who wants to be an actor, and Cassie, who wants the right to vote. Sebastian is an oarsman who dreams of owning a market stall, while Agnodike has become a female doctor, against the odds. We'll introduce children working on farms, in pottery workshops and barber's shops. You'll hear the clash of weapons, gossip at the market, music lessons and philosophical debate. You'll even watch the ancient Olympics!

About the author

MARY AULD is an award-winning children's author, specialising in information books, from music and art to history and science. Auld is the pen name of Rachel Cooke, editorial director at Hachette Children's for many years.

About the illustrator

STEPH MARSHALL is a freelance illustrator and printmaker based in Berkshire, UK. She has a particular fascination with maps and her work is often inspired by travel. Working predominantly with digital media, she creates bright, bold and playful illustrations.

AN INNOVATIVE APPROACH TO THE PAST

About the book

With five superb pop-ups of Da Vinci's most important works, young children will have fun as they learn about art. They can open up The Last Supper, see Da Vinci's Flying Machine in action, and meet the Archangel Gabriel in The Annunciation. Simple texts explain Da Vinci's masterpieces and describe his life in dazzling Renaissance courts in Italy and France.

About the author / consultant

SUSIE HODGE is an art historian, author, artist and journalist with more than 100 books to her name. She has an MA in the History of Art from Birkbeck, University of London, and is a Fellow of the RSA.

About the illustrator

TERESA BELLÓN was born in Spain in 1987. After studying illustration in Madrid she became an illustrator of children's books. Influenced by Portuguese and Nordic illustrators, her art is characterised by a touch of naivety and expressive use of colour.

BIO POPS! - ANIMATED FIRST BIOGRAPHIES

SELLING POINTS

- Introduces this famous artist in an approachable, fun way that children will enjoy
- Reproduces more than 15 of Da Vinci's most important works
- Brings the man to life, with quotes from his writings in speech bubbles
